They were there to promote what they have helped to forge into Monaco's biggest month of art, showcasing local galleries and international works to the local community and beyond.

"The idea behind Monaco Art Week is to collaborate together and to promote Monaco as an art destination, and of course we have to be In Sync with artmonte-carlo, we share clients and it's for the good of the Principality," Louise Grether, President of Monaco Art Week and head of Sotheby's told Monaco Life. "Monaco has always been a pull for the international clientele, but more and more people are saying that it is a wonderful place to be at the beginning of July."

In addition to the much-anticipated Claude Monet retrospective, Monet in Full Light, at the Grimaldi Forum, a rare monographic exhibition by George Condo and a show featuring the work of Mauro Restiffe at the New National Museum of Monaco, and the Ballets de Monte-Carlo's F(è)aites de la danse performances, there will be two big art events coming up in July.

MONACO ART WEEK

Now in its 5th edition, Monaco Art Week will return with its fantastic walking tour of local galleries in the Larvotto and Monte-Carlo neighbourhoods featuring varied programmes of modern and contemporary art as well as fine jewellery.

There will be 16 participating galleries: Artcurial, Boghossian, Christie's, G&M Design, Hauser & Wirth, Kamil Art Gallery, M.-F. Toninelli Art Moderne, Opera Gallery, Galerie Adriano Ribolzi, Sotheby's, Teos Gallery Monte-Carlo, Wannenes Art Contact, and Ward Moretti at Moretti Fine Art.

New to the schedule this year are HOFA, Lebreton, and Elisabeth Lillo-Renner.

Along with the art shows, galleries and auction houses will host round tables and professional meet and greets for connoisseurs looking for just the right pieces.

Monaco Art Week runs from 4th to 9th July under the High Patronage of Prince Albert II, and is supported by the Monaco Department of Cultural Affairs. Access to the locations is free of charge. For more, follow them on <https://www.monaco-artweek.com/>
